Read This Endorsement.

Colorado Springs, Colo., March 8, 1902.

We regard Hills' Manual as the best handbook of Cripple Creek mining companies which has ever been issued. Mr. Hills is now engaged in preparing a smaller work, a "MANUALETTE." The larger volume has proven itself so accurate and trustworthy that we feel justified in recommending any revision or abridgment thereof which Mr. Hills may make.

NOTICE.

The Publisher has carefully compiled this book from the latest official reports, and now asks the assistance of all interested in Western Mining Companies to help make this the authority of that section. All changes, corrections, or additions, will be thankfully received.

Errors in such a work are bound to occur, but with open criticism and hearty co-operation there will be less, and corrected editions will be published quarterly.

OF THE
Cripple Creek District.

Vol. I, 1900,

Was and is acknowledged to be the best and most accurate work ever published of any Mining Camp in the World.

A book 8½x11 inches, of 500 pages, printed in black and red, on No. 1 Enameled paper, handsomely bound in full red cloth.

Besides giving an accurate map of the property of each Company, it states Capitalization, condition of Treasury, Officers, and Directors, description of property, Development, Production, Dividend and History. A colored map, in 12 colors, 33x28 inches, of the whole District accompanies it, showing the holdings of each company therein described.

VOL. II will be issued this year by subscriptions only at $15 per copy, the publisher agreeing to sell no copies after the manuscript is in the printer's hands.

As each Cripple Creek Company should own one, so as to know the property they own, orders should be placed now.

This is the Official reference book, and is so acknowledged by all interested.

A few copies of Vol. I still remain unsold, and will be delivered to any address in the United States for one dollar while they last.

HISTORY

—OF—

The Colorado Springs Mining Stock Association.

Soon after Cripple Creek was discovered the enormous speculation in Cripple Creek shares in companies promoted and owned by Colorado Springs brokers, made a mining exchange necessary. Mining stocks were being sold on the curb, without regard to commissions, title of property, etc., etc. The brokers and prominent business men realized that the crude methods then being pursued would soon injure the credit of Colorado Springs, as well as the State, hence they decided to organize a Mining Stock Association and surround it with all the rules in their power to protect investors.

The Exchange was opened for business in September, 1894, and its steady growth since that time is sufficient evidence of the wisdom of its incorporators. No mining properties are listed until they are passed upon by the Listing Committee, and the attorneys for the Association. Titles, development, location, future prospects and management are examined. Every stock must be registered with a responsible Bank or Trust Company. The Governing Committee includes the presidents of the local banks, and representative business men of the town, whose willingness to devote their time to the affairs of the Exchange has resulted in making Colorado Springs the leading mining center in the United States. The result is that this Exchange now occupies a building second to none in the country, and is financially strong, as it has over $100,000 in its treasury. The membership numbers 127, and is made up of active young business men from all parts of the world, who are well equipped with business experience, and have Eastern connections and an extensive clientage that enable them to secure the necessary capital for the development of the different mining properties which have merit.

This Exchange has seen fit to classify the companies under three heads:

First—Mines.

Second—Preferred Prospects.

Third—Prospects.

This publication gives the classification under all companies which have passed before the Listing Committee.

Cripple Creek, as a producer, does not now need advertising, physically the condition of the Camp was never better, and while mining stocks representing every District in the world, have been declining in values for the past 18 or 20 months, the steady increase of the production now being made in the District, must excite comment and lead to active demand of the stocks in those companies that submit their properties to the rigid investigation demanded by this Exchange.

The Colorado Springs Mining Stock Association is gradually extending its business, and in the near future mining stocks will be listed on its board from all sections of the United States and Mexico. Quotations are wired daily to the leading newspapers throughout this country, and an official weekly letter is mailed to the same papers. The business has grown rapidly, and the management has been conservative and careful in its methods and added all the safe-guards possible.

Three compartment shaft 850 ft. deep, with stations about every 100 ft. Commodious and well equipped shaft house. Company purchased all the properties of the Independence T. & M. Co., for which it paid 652,252 shares and $20,000 cash, and all the property of the Wilson Creek Cons. G. M. Co. These purchases quieted all litigation. The entire property is under lease for two years from Dec. 1901. Lessees are to sink main shaft 400 ft. by Dec. 31st, 1902. Then to have an additional one and a half year to remove ore, above the 1250 ft. level. This company will commence mining below that level on Jan. 1st, 1903. Property has produced over $1,000,000 and several dividends were paid prior to its consolidation.
